

Our Church and Church House

An interior view of Marble Collegiate Church, built in 1854, when Fifth Avenue was an unpaved roadway and "far out in the country." The church, the first in the United States to have an electrically operated pipe organ, has hanging balconies and an unobstructed view of the pulpit from every pew. Its acoustical properties are said to be among the finest of any building in the country. A charming feature is the little door at the end of each pew.

Marble Collegiate Church

Fifth Avenue at 29th Street, New York City

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, Minister

"where old-fashioned friendliness still survives."

The Collegiate Church, founded in 1628, is the oldest church in America having a continuous ministry from the date of its establishment. The main sanctuary is filled to capacity at two services every Sunday. Overflow provided for in two chapels and three auditoriums with closed circuit television. Church fully air-conditioned.

POST CARD